

HOANG DINH HUU
Governor of Kien Hoa
Minister of Education and Training of Vietnam

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

He was born in 1904, Kien Hoa, Kien Hoa. He was a Buddhist. He was a member of the Buddhist Union in a Buddhist school. He was a member of the Buddhist Union in a Buddhist school. He was a member of the Buddhist Union in a Buddhist school.

In 1930, he joined the Viet Nam Liberation League (VNL) and was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL.

In 1935, he joined the Viet Nam Liberation League (VNL) and was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL.

He was graduated from the Ho Chi Minh Academy in 1938 where he received an education. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL.

In 1938, he joined the Viet Nam Liberation League (VNL) and was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL.

In 1939, he joined the Viet Nam Liberation League (VNL) and was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL. He was a member of the VNL.

From mid-1939 to mid-1940, he served as Province Chief of Kien Hoa. During which time he initiated the General Grievance System as a basis for strategic handling and later for pacification. Following this, he was appointed Mayor of Quang Nam during the Buddhist insurrection and held this position until November 1943. In January 1944, he returned to his position as Province Chief of Kien Hoa and remained in this position until December 1945. During this time, he developed the pacification concept most of which is accepted as the present policy in Vietnam.

By the end of 1965, he became the first National Director for the RD Cadre program and was in charge of the Training Center at Vung Tau. Most of the concepts and techniques he developed during this period are in use today. After a disagreement with Thanh and the CIA on concept and operations, he quit the program in June 1966.

He then returned to Kien Hoa; in October 1967 ran for election to the Lower House. He was elected with 42 per cent of the vote in a field of 12 candidates. Since his election to the Assembly, he has advocated:

- Buddhist cause.
- National unity.
- Freedom and justice.
- Reconciliation with NVN and NLF as basis for a peace settlement.
- Change in concept and strategy for a more effective anti-Communist struggle.

Tran Ngoc Chau is the author of two widely read books entitled:

- PACIFICATION CONCEPT
- INTERNATIONAL OPINION ABOUT THE VIETNAM WAR

He has also authored numerous articles on the current political issues in Vietnam.